General information

Karolinum Press publishes more than twenty journals in many areas of study, including humanities, natural sciences, medicine, law, education and economy. The tradition of some of these go as far back as the 19th-century, while others have been established quite recently in reaction to the current needs of the university and academic community. Karolinum Press aims to publish prestigious open access journals, available to the broadest range of readers, both in electronic and in printed formats, while always protecting the rights of authors to the maximum extent possible.

Karolinum Press provides the following services

- editorial services
- typesetting and printing
- graphic layout
- electronic publishing on the Karolinum Press's website (www.karolinum.cz/journals)
- indexing services (EBSCO, Scopus, Medline, DOAJ, CEEOL and others)
- consultancy and training in electronic publishing and editorial practice
- content archival

DOI

Based on an agreement with the Publishers International Linking Association (PILA), Charles University is entitled, as of 2014, to allocate Digital Object Identifier (DOI). Within the university, this service is coordinated and provided by Karolinum Press.

Open access

In 2013, Charles University became a signatory of the Berlin Declaration on Open Access to Knowledge in Sciences and Humanities. As a result, all journals published by Karolinum Press are published as open journals (gold open access), and authors are allowed to self-archive preprint and postprint versions of their papers. Publishing in journals published by Karolinum Press is not subject to any article processing charges (APCs).

Distribution and subscription

Journal issues published by Karolinum Press can be purchased in the Karolinum Bookstore (www.karolinum.cz/knihkupectvi).

Subscriptions to selected journals is handled by A.L.L. production, s. r. o. (www.predplatne.cz).

We welcome your suggestions for new journals or expanding cooperation in publishing the existing journals. Please do not hesitate to address Karolinum Press management or journals editorial office of our publishing house.
